Compact leather case

A versatile Notebook case made of leather in the design of the Multi Series.
The Notebook compartment is lockable and has an interior padding made of High-Density Foam (HDF). Therefore your mobile computing equipment is perfectly protected. Additional security is provided by the reinforced frame. The front compartment is equipped with special pockets for your mobile phone, pens and business cards. Mobile accessories find room in various compartments and pockets in the workstation. Documents find room in their own special compartment. Power supply units are stored in the cable bag. And you will discover that the custom-designed DICOTA leather handle is the most comfortable case handle available on the market.
